Subject: RE: Permit application for discharge of industrial effluent

Importance: High

Good morning Denzyl, Following my discussion with yourself and Mossel Bay Municipality's Warren Manual my understanding is that no industrial effluent is discharged from your premises. Sea Vuna is therefore not required to submit an application for discharge of industrial effluent into Municipal sewers. You are however required to notify the Municipality should your operations require diversion of flow from your filtration system into municipal sewers.

Kind regards,

Subject: Permit application for discharge of industrial effluent

Dear Amanda

As per our telephonic discussion earlier regarding the permit application for discharge of Industrial effluent. We use sea water and fresh water for processing of our fish. All our waste water are passed through a filtration system with 1 mm screening. The water are tested on a monthly basis for micro levels by a SANAS accredited laboratory and every three months for chemical analysis by a SANAS accredited laboratory. (see results) The Waste material are all organic and are collected by a fish meal plant for further processing. The water travel a distance of less than ten meters and are discharge back into the sea. Warren Manuel was here at our site last week and I explained and showed him the whole process. Please indicate if we should still apply for the permit?
Regards
